Re: U.S. v. Henry R. Lewis et al. (C.A. No. 97-10052-MLW)

Dear Mr. LeClair:

Pursuant to Rule 26(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the United States supplements its interrogatory answers by enclosing (i) a revised Summary of Single Damages, (ii) a revised synopsis of calculations, entitled February 2001 Synopsis of Calculations, and (iii) a revised spreadsheet that was used to generate the calculations, entitled "Documentation of mailings that violate the Cooperative Mail Rule," along with an explanation sheet.

I anticipate that these calculations may be revised in the future as additional information relative to damages is discovered by the United States. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Peter K. Levitt
Assistant U.S. Attorney

February 2001 Synopsis of Calculations

1. In late 1997 and early 1998, Vantage Travel Services, Inc. ("Vantage") provided the United States with copies of its secret "side agreements" with its not-for-profit clients and associated mailing information. Based on the information provided by Vantage at that time, the United States Postal Inspection Service ("USPIS") calculated the single damages due the United States Postal Service as the difference between the non-profit standard mail rate (formerly, the special bulk third-class rate) (hereinafter, the "non-profit rate") and the regular third-class bulk rate (the "regular rate") for all the cooperative mailings sent by, or caused to be sent by, Vantage at the non-profit rate for the pertinent time period. These calculations resulted in the "Synopsis of Calculations" which the United States voluntarily provided to representatives of Vantage in a meeting between the parties in Spring 1998 (the "Spring 1998 Synopsis of Calculations"). At a subsequent meeting between the parties in July 1998, the United States provided representatives of Vantage with a spreadsheet detailing the single damage amounts attributable to Vantage's contracts with individual non-profit clients (the "July 21, 1998 Computation of Damages").
2. Based on the information provided by Vantage, the USPIS prepared a spreadsheet to compile the data. The USPIS calculated an average difference in postage between the non-profit rate and regular rate for the pertinent period. The range in differences between the non-profit rate and the regular rate during the pertinent time period was $.07 to $.11. The USPIS therefore used an average postage rate difference of $.09. This formula took into consideration that the mailer would not be entitled to the discounted rate for all mail pieces entered into the postal system. In addition, the formula allowed for a small discount for some pieces of mail that may not have been entitled to the discounted rate. In preparing these calculations, the USPIS eliminated any mailings that appeared to be mailed at the regular rate.
3. The Spring 1998 Synopsis of Calculations was based on 18,227,610 pieces of mail, mailed by, or caused to be mailed by, Vantage at an average postal rate difference of $.09. The total single damages, based on this information, was $1,640,484.90. For determining the base number of false statements to the U.S. Postal Service under the False Claims Act, the USPIS used the number of mailings documented by Vantage in connection with the secret side agreements, which totaled 327. This was a conservative number since multiple PS Forms 3602 are normally used to document a single mailing. Assuming a minimum penalty of $5,000 for each false statement, the total penalties were calculated as $1,635,000 ($5,000 x 327).
4. Since completion of the Spring 1998 Synopsis of Calculations, the United States has received additional information bearing on damages from numerous sources, including Vantage, Vantage's non-profit clients, and various mailhouses which served as agents for Vantage. Based on the new information, the USPIS created a new spreadsheet to calculate the number of pieces mailed by, or caused to be mailed by, Vantage at the non-profit rate, and also created the "May 2000 Synopsis of Calculations". The May 2000 Synopsis of Calculations was subject to revision as additional information was discovered throughout the course of the litigation.

5. At a meeting between the parties in July 1998, Harry Melikian ("Melikian") of Vantage provided the United States with a worksheet titled "U S Postal Analysis 1992-1997." Melikian's worksheet used the actual difference in postage between the non-profit rate and the regular rate, rather than an average difference, for the pertinent time period. The deltas in Melikian's worksheet ranged from $.064 to $.102. For the May 2000, August 2000, October 2000, and February 2000 Synopsis of Calculations, the USPIS used Melikian's formula to calculate a conservative average dollar difference between the non-profit rate and the regular rate of $.077, reduced from $.09, for the pertinent time period. The difference between the two rates was substantially higher at the time when the improper mailings began, but has narrowed over time.
6. Based on information discovered since the May 2000 Synopsis of Calculations, the USPIS created the August 2000 Synopsis of Calculations and an updated spreadsheet to calculate the number of pieces mailed by, or caused to be mailed by, Vantage at the non-profit rate. The August 2000 Synopsis of Calculations was subject to revision as additional information was discovered throughout the course of the litigation.
7. Based on information discovered since the August 2000 Synopsis of Calculations, the USPIS created the October 2000 Synopsis of Calculations and an updated spreadsheet to calculate the number of pieces mailed by, or caused to be mailed by, Vantage at the non-profit rate. The October 2000 Synopsis of Calculations was subject to revision as additional information was discovered throughout the course of the litigation.
8. Based on information discovered since the October 2000 Synopsis of Calculations, the USPIS has created an updated spreadsheet to calculate the number of pieces mailed by, or caused to be mailed by, Vantage at the non-profit rate (see attached "Summary of Single Damages", dated 2/22/01, and "Documentation of Mailings that violate the Cooperative Mail Rule", also dated 2/22/01), and created a revised synopsis of calculations (see attached "February 2001 Synopsis of Calculations").

9. Based on information presently available to the United States, as of February 22, 2001, Vantage has improperly mailed, or caused to be mailed, 38,260,275 pieces of mail at the non-profit rate when such mail should have been mailed at the regular rate. Multiplied by the conservative delta of $.077, this represents a single damage amount of $2,946,041.18. Under the False Claims Act, double damages would equal $5,892,082.36 and treble damages would equal $8,838,123.54.
10. As of February 22, 2001, the number of improper Vantage mailings documented by PS Forms 3602 totaled at least 610. Each of these Forms 3602 constitutes a false statement under the False Claims Act. Assuming a conservative application of the minimum penalty amount of $5,000 under the False Claims Act for each false statement, the total potential penalty amount equals $3,050,000.00 (610 x $5,000). Assuming application of the maximum penalty amount of $10,000 under the False Claims Act for each false statement, the total potential penalty amount equals $6,100,000. These penalty amounts are in addition to the damage amounts noted above.
